Luckily I was able to coast right analog computation. At the time it did not into the only gas station in that area. But it seem like something I would ever use. didnt open until 8: 00 a. m. So, I sat and Little did I know then that I would spend waited till it opened, got gas, and was late the next 17 years programming analog to work. What a great way to start a job ! and hybrid computer simulations. Looking back on that day and what happened to me on the way to work, I can While I was interviewing for jobs, during see that it was just the first of many my senior year, I talked to an engineer strange events that were to happen to me from the NACA facility at Cleveland. while I was a part of the FSL. This is now the NASA Glenn Research Center. I really did not feel like working I actually thought that I was being hired to in Ohio, and when he told me that the program the digital computer that had NACA had a flight research facility at recently been installed at the NACA Edwards Air Force Base in California, I HSFS. It was an IBM CPC (Card Pro-asked him to send my interview papers grammed Calculator). My boss, Ed and college transcript out there. After all, Videan, upon looking at my college I...
